SECURE RIGHT-OF-WAY THROUGH BENTLEYVILLE

Burgess William Johnson Signs Street Railway Ordinance

FOR WESTSIDE COMPANY

Extension Through to Bentleyville From Charleroi Expected to Follow

Burgess William Johnson of Bentleyville borough, late Tuesday afternoon approved by his signature an ordinance passed by the Bentleyville council the night before granting the Westside Street railway company the right of way to construct lines and maintain a service through the borough. Work will be started as soon as possible, and it is presumed that a continuation of the line from Charleroi to Bentleyville will be in the near future.

In November a franchise ordinance was passed by the Bentleyville council granting the company rights of way. This ordinance was vetoed after some deliberation by Burgess Johnson on the ground that it did not give the borough enough rights.

Two of the most important changes in the new ordinance are regarding the crossings. In it the word "near" was substituted by "within 150 feet" at the Newkirk church, and at another crossing "near" was substituted by 100 feet. Also there was some change in the matter of paving. The company agrees to pave between the tracks and some on the outside of the tracks. Where double tracks are laid there is to be 20 feet of paving done. In all probability the line will be extended from Bentleyville to Ellsworth and if plans are carried out this line will be continued even farther.

Two right-of-ways through to Bentleyville are being considered by the Westside Electric company, according to information received at noon, and it is only a question to be decided by the company officers which one will be selected.

HENS RETURNED FROM MONONGAHELA SHOW

Charleroi poultry fanciers received their chickens from the Monongahela Poultry Show Monday where they had been on exhibition. C. M. Hill's pen of White Leghorns won the blue ribbon and captured the special prize given by the Pittsburgh Steel company of Monessen.

DEPARTMENT HEAD VISITS THEATRES

Chief Factory Inspector J. C. Delaney Makes Special Trip to Charleroi--Makes an Inspection of Picture Houses

Chief Factory Inspector J. C. Delaney of Harrisburg made a hurried trip to Charleroi Tuesday apparently to make a special inspection of the theatres here. He was here a couple of hours but during that time visited the different places of amusement. While he did not make public anything concerning the result of his investigation, it is thought that certain changes will have to be made in each of the theatres to conform with the law.

In his conversation here, Mr. Delaney stated that the department was becoming more strict and no doubt in the next year or so more stringent laws would be passed regulating places of amusement. One matter that brought to the attention of the department the laxity of the enforcement of the laws in certain places was the Canonsburg theatre disaster of last year in which several lost their lives.

Mr. Delaney looked over the Coyle theatre which is being remodeled into a moving picturehouse of the most up-to-date kind and expressed himself as being highly pleased with the precautions for safety that are being taken.

HEARING CONTINUED IN CALLAGHAN CASE

Grand Jury Does Not Hear All Witnesses on One Day--Indictment Returned Against Man Who Showed Binford Pictures

Although the conspiracy and treason case of former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan against former Congressman E. F. Acheson, Senator J. Carter Judson and T. B. H. Brownlee was before the grand jury at Washington Tuesday, the case was not completed, as another witness was to be heard and the hearing was continued until today.

Another case that attracted much attention was that of Sid C. Wilson, proprietor of a Monongahela picture theatre. He exhibited what is known as the Beulah Binford films, and was returned on the charge of exhibiting indecent and immoral pictures under the new statute covering that offense passed by the last Legislature.

TWENTY-ONE YEAR LEASE ON STORE

Big Firm Secures First Floor of the New Might Building

AGENT INSPECTS TOWNS

After looking over various towns in the Monongahela valley for a store location, one of the largest firms in the country handling a certain class of merchandise has centered upon Charleroi, and has secured a lease of 21 years on the storeroom in the new Might building on Fifth street. What the company handles and the firm name are being kept a secret. It is probable that the new store room will be finished by April and the company will immediately occupy it.

It is stated that an agent of the firm traveling incognito visited Charleroi, Monessen, Donora, Monongahela and one or two other towns to find the best location for a new store to be established in this valley, and without hesitancy after his investigation reached the conclusion that it was Charleroi.

January As Cold Month

Manipulation of Temperature Figures Shows it Was Record Breaker

According to R. A. Roberts, who with his other duties, watches the temperature for Uncle Sam at the North Charleroi government yards, the month of January was one of the coldest in the history of recent years. The average for the month was 14.8 degrees.

The coldest day during the month was January 13, when the mercury jumped down to 16 degrees below. January 14 was the next coldest day with the thermometer registering 15 degrees below zero. January 15 there was a temperature of 20 degrees above, January 16 two below, and then on January 18 the mercury traveled to 42 degrees above. From January 15 to January 14 inclusive there was an average temperature of 1.2 degrees below zero.

Thus far this month has been decidedly chilly. February 3 the temperature was 11 degrees above, February 4, four above, February 5, three below and February 6, six above. Today was warmer.

Play at Turner Hall Clears $220 for Charity Work

BOARD HEARS REPORTS

At a meeting of the Associated Board of Charities Tuesday evening, reports of the benefit show which was given last week at the Turner Hall were received, and resolutions adopted thanking all those who participated in the play and made it the success that it was. Not all the tickets are in yet, nor all the money collected, but in the neighborhood of $220 will be cleared from the show for carrying on the work among the poor.

Members of the cast C. W. Albright, Jr., director, Miss Kathryn Collins, Miss Amelia Patrick, Miss Marjorie Williams, Charles Feste, Chauncey Jones, Edward Lhoest, Edward Wolf and Fred Bell, were thanked for their kindly donated work; the Turn Verein for the donation of the hall for two nights, R. S. Coyle for the use of scenery, and others who in various ways helped to make it a success. A vote of thanks was expressed in a resolution to the Mail for use of its space in advertising the show.

Since the play was given people are beginning to better appreciate the work being done by the Associated Board of Charities. Clothing which

Star Brewery Withdraws Application for License

PROCEED WITH HEARING

Applicants Against Whom There Are Remonstrances Before Judge McIlvaine

Rather than risk a refusal the Star brewery of Washington withdrew its application for retail license at the license court at Washington Tuesday. This and the Acme brewery of Bentleyville and the Globe brewery of Monongahela, have been without a retail license for the past two years. Both the Acme and the Globe breweries, however, made their application for a retail license, although remonstrances and charges were filed against both.

The retail license against which remonstrances and charges had been filed that were heard Tuesday, were those of Edward Miller who seeks a hotel license at Marianna; Lewis and Phoebe Cook, West Brownsville; Addison Abbot and others of the Abbot Hotel, Carroll township; Joseph Aul, Hotel Aubery, West Brownsville; William S. Bower, of Fredericktown; Mathias J. Engle, Hotel Good, West Brownsville; Harry Dunn, Midway; Thomas Noble, Hotel Noble, Carroll township; Thomas Nolder, Finleyville; John and Patrick Riley, Courtney; Charles Ruben, West Bethlehem township.

The applications for wholesale license were also taken up Tuesday. There are three of these, Harry Hayden, Monongahela; William Delaney, Donora, and Leonard Schmalbach of Charleroi. Charges and remonstrances are filed against each of these. It is expected that the hearings will be completed today. There were many witnesses both for and against the applicants, and a strong fight is being made in favor of a license for the Cochran distillery at Washington which has been thus far never operated, the license being refused each time.

GRAND REGENT WILL BE HERE

On the occasion of a visit to be made next Monday by the Grand Regent of Pennsylvania, Willard F. Thompson and other grand officers, Royal Arcanum members of Charleroi, Donora, Monessen, Redstone, California and Monongahela will hold a union meeting. This will be the first union meeting of the order ever held here and the members are working hard to make it an enjoyable affair.

Pretty Home Facing River.

CHECKS TO BUSINESS

Public economists and statesmen generally are beginning to recognize the immense amount of harm that social agitation, class hatred and coercive combinations are doing to
the business and industrial interests of the country. All of these interpose a check or hindrance to progress, which in turn imposes idleness
on labor, depreciation in values, and loss of confidence in industrial developments and business investments.

Because of this agitation and class hatred small investors are not putting their money in business ventures
Instead they are putting it in the banks where a reasonable rate of interest is assured without the risk of the checks and hindrances that now harrass all business interests. The banks in turn loan the money to the big interests that are capitalized strongly enough to combat whatever forces that may be arrayed against them and in turn control output and prices. Thus it will be seen that the small savings bank depositor becomes an unconscious co-operator with the big trusts in providing funds with which to control business and industry.

The most effective check, however is the agitation which destroys the
business confidence in a community,
and discourages the investment of capital in industrial ventures. There are few communities that are immune from some of these checks and hindrances, the removal of which will be most effective in bettering conditions everywhere. Lack of confidence is almost as bad as a famine.

PROTECTS LIFE.

The Railway World is authority for the statement that a signal honor has been paid the Pennsylvania Railroad
by the American Museum of Safety in presenting to it a medal signifying that the company has done more for the protection of its employees than any other company during the past year. In the fall of 1910 experts from one of the large accident insurance companies were employed,

who in company with the representatives of the motive power department inspected all the larger shops.
Following this safety committees
were organized on all divisions of the road. As a result the number of serious injuries per 1,000 shop employes
was reduced from 5.7 in January, 1911
to 3.2 in October.

This effort of the Pennsylvania in common with many other large railroad corporations, to reduce the number of accidents among the employes
is prompted not only by humanitarian motives but by considerations of business expediency. It does not make for efficient operation when valued employes are continually being killed or injured and when their places must be taken by less experienced men. A company is maintaining the integrity of its working organization when it safeguards by every means in its power the health and welfare of its employes.

PICKED UP IN PASSING.

Speaking of the forthcoming criminal court, which follows the action of the grand jury in session at Washington this week, a Charleroi citizen relates a rather peculiar experience
he had while doing duty as jurymen ten or twelve years ago at the county seat.

"It so happened that there were six of us from Charleroi who were either serving on the jury or were called there as witnesses," said the Charleroi man "and as hotel accommodations were somewhat limited on account of the court week crowd, our bunch was quartered in one room together, which suited us all right, as we were a congenial crowd."

"The first evening at the hotel the whole six of us congregated in a small lounge room near the office for the purpose of playing cards. We had just gotten fairly started, when we heard a tap at the door, and to our response to come in, the colored porter entered.

"Is yo all de gen'en from Charleroi in No. 16?" he asked with a knowing wink. When informed in the affirmative he added:

"Somebody, I doan know who,
done left two cases of beer in yo'
room. I 'se jes' goin' by and done seed it, so I took on myself to put
half a dozen bottles in de wash bowl with some cracked ice round it. How dat beer done got in dat room is sure a mystery. I doan know who put it dar."

"Immediately we all dipped down
in our pockets and gave the porter a donation that not only reimbursed him
for his thoughtfulness, but covered the price of the two cases of beer. The porter had sized up our crowd and
taken a chance as to its thirstiness.
After that a couple of cases of beer
were found in the room every night
together with a bowl of cracked ice."

An old-time school master relates that when physiology and hygiene
was made a compulsory study by a State law in the public schools of Pennsylvania a number of years ago,
a patron who was somewhat illiterate filed a complaint against the
"new-fangled notions," as he called them.

"What's this stuff you're teaching my daughter in school about how
we're made and put together?" he asked of the teacher.

The latter endeavored to explain
but the man could not be convinced.
"It's all nonsense and time wasted," he declared. "The child always knew she had a body, but she has to go to school to learn that she has a trunk."

MORE OR LESS TRUE.

retary of the same association, has

Wants Rights First.
Mrs. Frederick Nathan was asked recently to contribute to the American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes, but she refused, saying that all the money she could spare would be given to the suffrage cause until the courts declare that "women are people."

Gaynor's Bible Neglected.

On his tour Mayor Gaynor of New York stopped at Great Barrington to look at the library of the town, to which, 14 years ago, while a summer resident there, he presented a copy of the Bible.

At that time he wanted a copy for reference in preparing a speech he was to make and was shocked to find that there was no copy of the Bible in the generous collection of bound volumes of which the town had always been proud. He gave a copy
to the town library, and on the fly leaf
of the book he wrote:

"I have found a great many libraries which lacked a great many books, but never before have I found one like this, which lacked the Great Book."

The town has guarded the Gaynor Bible zealously since 1897. It is in the pink of condition, never apparently having been opened; in fact, some of the leaves are still uncut.—Water

To Purify Water.

To purify water sprinkle a tablespoonful of pulverized alum into a hoghead of water (the water to be stirred at the same time). It will after a few hours, by precipitating to the bottom the impure particles, so purify the water that it will be found to possess nearly all the freshness
and clearness of spring water. A pal-ful containing four gallons may be purified by a teaspoonful of alum.—

Noble Ideal.

In the effort to appreciate various forms of greatness, let us not underestimate the value of a simply good life. Just to be good; to keep life pure from degrading elements, to make it constantly helpful in little ways to those who are touched by it to keep one's spirit always sweet, and avoid
all manner of petty anger and irritability—that is an ideal as noble as it is difficult.

Babies Chew Tobacco.

Eskimo babies, it is alleged, are seldom weaned before the fourth or fifth year, but are taught to chew tobacco and to swallow the juice even as early as the ninth month. The customs—general with both sexes—of inhaling tobacco smoke and swallowing tobacco juice seem to be of no recent growth. No evil results of either practice seem to be apparent.—Medical

Consulting Mme. Fantella

"Again and again I've addressed
you," remarked Grace, "while you've been staring and gazing at that calendar. Aren't there enough days in the month to suit you?"

"Certainly, but this is the 15th of October—one of vital importance to me."

"What's so special about it?"

"About three weeks ago," answered
Juliette, her face beaming, with smiles
and her eyes glistening with expectancy,—"I consulted a clairvoyant, Madame Fantella."

"Madame Fantella used to sew for us," interrupted Grace.

"Not this one. She is simply marvelous, predicts miraculous events and gives you the most wonderful dates."
"For instance?" asked Grace, dubitously.

"At the age of sixty-nine I will meet with a serious illness, but will recover."

"I hope you will have recovered
your senses by that time and not be lieve in every fake fortune teller or palmist."

"I'm not superstitious, but on this very date she prophesied that a tall dark young man would invite me to the theater and come what may, under no condition should I refuse, as he would propose."

"Who is the tall dark, mysterious
gent?"

"Why, Charles Charletoi, of course, whose invitation I accepted immediately for tonight."

"Astounding! Surprising! Charles
always seemed a confirmed bachelor
to me," exclaimed Grace. "He is so attentive to all the girls."

"Little did I think I would be the fortunate one. How the girls will envy me, the wife of such a handsome, cultured, clever lawyer," said Juliette in a delighted, blissful tone.

When Charles called for Juliette
that evening, he found her waiting for him looking as pretty as a lily all in white. She greeted him more cordially than ever and seemed to listen intently to even the most trivial remark. All the time she was pondering, "How, when and where will he say those glorious words that can so easily be answered in one little word
of three letters?"

"You seem radiant with happiness,"
Charles commented.

"I'm always happy when I'm with you," she answered as they left the theater, where she had not heard one word of the play.

"Then I'm all the sorrier," commented Charles, "to tell you that next week I intend moving to New York."

"Doesn't he think I'd move away," wondered Juliette. "Why, I'd go to the depths of Africa with the man I loved for." Aloud, she managed to ask, "Why?"

"A well-known legal firm want a single young man to look after one department of their business and I have accepted their offer, which means
a successful future."

"Accept my congratulations," said Juliette. "But you will not always be single?"

"For a long time to come," explained Charles. "That's the reason I'm nice to all the girls, so none can take my attentions seriously."

"Not even if you admired the girl greatly," asked Juliette, fast losing confidence in Madame Fantella.

"No, because my mother on her death-bed exacted a promise from me
that I would not marry until my sisters were married. As the kids are only seven and nine years now, my benedict days are in the dim future."

Charles was so interested in telling about his run of affairs and prospects
that he failed to notice how listless
and weary Juliette was.

"I shall never forget what a pleasant evening I spent," he said as he left her.

"I'll never forget it either," thought Juliette, tearing the calendar to shreds. "That I have wasted three weeks of my life thinking, hoping and dreaming of that conceited fool Madame Fantella is certainly wonderful in predicting occurrences that don't occur."

Repent!

I heard the voice of the Lord in the night say:

"Repent!"

Contrition fell on my heart such a frightful

As seemed of doom terrors blent

"O Lord," I gasped, in a whisper, with fear hoarse.

"Thy eyes

Reveal! Thy favor bestow! Oh, be near,

source

Of strength and my weakness efface!"

Then sudden peace on my spirit descended.

I felt

Upraised, upborne, by the Infinite fend-

ed.

And, weeping with joy, I knelt.

And there, gloom-compressed, I panted

my heart's woe.

I prayed

With fervor, zeal, such as life's deepest

smarts owe,

And knew, in the praying, God's aid.

Thus morning found me; and I from my lowest, rose

Content:

My heart was filled with the joy one at ease knows.

I said: "I repent—I repent!"

How Perfume Is Weighed.
It was the Italian physician Salvani who devised a microbalance of such extreme delicacy that it clearly demonstrated the loss of weight of musk by volatilization. Thus the invisible perfume floating off in the air is indirectly weighed.

The essential part of the apparatus is a very thin thread of glass, fixed at one end and extended horizontally. The microscopic objects to be weighed are placed upon the glass thread near its free end and the amount of flexure produced is observed with a microscope magnifying 100 diameters.

A mote weighing one thousandth of a milligram is said perceptibly to bend the thread.—Buffalo Courier.

Heart Is Best Guide.
The man who offers sympathy to a neighbor and who comforts him in time of trouble can afford to run the risk of being accused of not minding his own business. An act of genuine kindness is readily distinguished from intermeddling. The heart is sometimes a better guide for action than the head.

Shocking Sounds.
In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Mich., "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50 cents at W. F. GRIM TRAGEDIES OF OCEAN

Many Vessels Abandoned at Sea That Are Constant Menace to Navigation.

There is a grimness about the brief news dispatch which states that the derelict destroyer Seneca, of the United States revenue cutter service, weighed anchor and steamed out of New York harbor to search for derelicts of the seven-day storm which ended recently. Vessels that have been abandoned at sea, unless deliberately destroyed, continue to be a menace to shipping for a long period following their abandonment. For many years it was customary for sea captains, on coming into port, to report such derelicts as they had observed during a voyage, and the government published charts in which the position of the reported derelicts was shown, in order that sailing masters might be on their guard against collision with them. There was at one time some talk of international co-operation in the task of clearing the sea of these floating ships, but nothing came of it, and the United States government finally took the matter up on its own account, being for a long time the only government which did so, and presumably it occupies that position to this day. The vessels designated as derelict destroyers are specially fitted out with dynamite and other means of destroying and sinking the floating menaces to navigation, and the significance of the departure of the Seneca lies in the fact that the storm of last week is supposed to have caused many wrecks off Hatteras and along the coast of the Carolinas.

Cheap Mode of Living.
With no rent to pay, no street car fares or other of the usual unavoidable city expenses to meet, the barge and canal boat men of the Netherlands live possibly the most frugal lives of any of the urban working classes in Europe. They, with their families, exist in the hulls of their craft. The rooms are small, with little ventilation, and necessarily low to enable the boats to pass under the bridges. The decks form the children's playground. Chickens are sometimes kept on the boat and consume the garbage.

Make-up of the Dollar Bill.
The American dollar bill is made up of parts gathered from all over the earth. Much of the paper fiber is linen rag from the Orient. The silk comes from Italy and China. The blue ink is made from German or Canadian cobalt. The black ink is made from Niagara Falls acetylene gas smoke, and most of the green ink has green color mixed in white zinc sulphide made in Germany. When the treasury seal is printed in red the color comes from Central America.

PREPARE FOR AUTUMN

RIGHT NOW IS EXCELLENT TIME TO MAKE SELECTION.

Tailored Styles Continue to Hold Their Own in Popular Favor—Short Coat is Also to Be Much in Vogue.

This is an excellent time for looking up the things needed for the next three months, for at this time autumn effects make their appearance and they are generally much cheaper than later on. As usual, tailored styles are much considered, the trim street suit and long coat being in a way always the same and easier to decide upon than the more fanciful garments. At any rate, only tailored things are seen to any extent, and these are quite plain, though the fashion people promise any number of fine surprises in a week or two. In fact, we are told that the street gown will be quite fancy with trimming, that there will be odd cuts and vastly rich colors. Meanwhile, except for an increasing width in the skirt, made by inverted platts stitched closely at the top and flaring at the bottom, street suits are not greatly different in style from those of the summer. The short coat introduced with late is much in vogue, but this has as many cuts as the peacock has eyes in his gorgeous tail—it is in sacque shape, Empire form, to Norfolk design or with a high belt and coquettish shirred tail. Materials for these fresh and enticing suits, of course, consider the autumn in quality and color. The nattiest little checked wools and striped men's cloths show mellow browns to a great extent, a touch of black satin and deep orange linen being used sometimes for collar and cuffs. Any black and white goods suitable for a tailored suit is still very chic, and with this combination the coat trimmings may show a blend of white and purple linen. The oddity of putting satin with muslin and linen with wool in this way is decidedly smart and most suited to the season. The washable summer materials soften the gloom of the darkish colors used, and lighten the effect of the textures which might otherwise seem too clumsy for the middle of September. The illustration gives the loose sacque style girls from seven to twelve will wear, and it is in a smooth blue serge with blue and red silk for the trimming. The single button is of red silk covered with blue crochet.

and this solitary detail gives the little garment a very elegant stamp. Pearl or bone buttons, by the way, are not used on any dressy coat, unless the garment is in polo style and in a delicate evening color. Buttons are elaborate and made to a great extent of crochet over molds, or the covering will be of some rich tapestry in soft colors—the button set in a metal rim—or the fastener will show a crust of rich embroidery.

On fact, so far as buttons are concerned, one can be commonplace only with the practical coat, and even here if the garment is of a very rough sort some novelty in shape is desirable with the cheapest bone button. The wooden mold, however, covered plainly with the same material, trims many a dashing coat and where the garment is reversible, whichever way the coat is put on, the buttons will be in the color of the lining. With this exception all other buttons on the first coats are striking and original.

To Clean Mole Bags.
White mole handbags clean easily with naphtha. The whole bag—silk cord, gold mountings and all—may be dipped into the naphtha. A gentle scrubbing with an old tooth brush will aid in the cleansing process. Wedded at Washington

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord K. Lewis in Washington, Monday evening at 9 o'clock, the nuptials uniting in marriage Phillip E. Hileman, of Fredericktown and Miss Sara M. Lantz of Waynesburg were said. Rev. J. G. Patton performed the ceremony. After a visit in Waynesburg the couple will take up their residence in Fredericktown.

The groom is the owner and publisher of the Fredericktown Chronicle, and former editor of the Waynesburg Times. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Hileman of California and a former employee on the Mail. The bride is an accomplished young woman of Waynesburg. She is well known in society circles there and is a musician of prominence both as a pianist and vocalist.

Sick But Few Days

Thomas William Gauden, aged 41 years and two months, died after a brief illness at his home at the rear of 219 Lincoln avenue this morning at 1 o'clock. Mr. Gauden, who has been for some years the janitor at the Bank of Charleroi building, was taken home Saturday. He did not leave the house after that period. Pneumonia is said to have been the cause of death.

His widow survives. There were no children. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with services at St. James A. M. E. church. Interment will be in the Charleroi cemetery.

Mr. Gauden was one of the best known colored citizens of Charleroi, obliging and held high in the esteem of his employers.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT SHOW

The Royal Dramatic club of Charleroi Council, No. 1240 Royal Arcanum is making arrangements to present the play "Down in Dixie" shortly after Easter. Rehearsals for the affair will commence next week. "Down in Dixie" is a four-act military drama. It was given by the same club here some years ago.

JIMSEY BROWN GETS SIX

In a fast clean game at Johnstown Tuesday night the Johnstown five took over the Charleroi basketball five by the score of 43 to 35. Fast all the way through the Flood City tossers had to win in the last few minutes of play. Both teams put up the finest kind of basketball.

The first half started off with a rush. In a short time the Jawns were rejoicing with 15 points, Charleroi had few to talk about. At 15 Fogarty and his tribe stopped for a while and the Adamsites trotted up and passed them. The end of the first half came with Charleroi in the lead by the score of 24 to 23.

If anything the second half was an improvement on the first in the way of speed. Johnstown passed Charleroi and gained more rapidly than it had in the first inning Wohlfarth and Kinkaide throwing baskets with the accuracy of real sharpshooters. The lineup:

Johnstown—43	Charleroi—35
Fogarty	F. Adams
Mayham	F. J. Brown
Keenan	C. Dolin
Kinkaide	G. A. Brown
Wohlfarth	G. Herron

Field goals—Mayham 2, Fogarty, Keenan 3, Kinkaide 5, Wohlfarth 6, Adams 2, J. Brown 6, Dolin 4, A. Brown 2, Herron. Foul goals—Fogarty 9 out of 13, Adams 5 out of 9. Referee—Roach.

ANNOUNCES FOR THE ASSEMBLY

James W. Walker of West Pike Run township announces that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Assembly at the primaries on April 13. Mr. Walker is one of the best known young Republicans in Washington county and has been mentioned on previous occasions in connection with the Assembly nomination.

JAMES W. WALKER.

He is a resident of West Pike Run township near Coal Centre. He lives on the old Walker home farm there where he was born March 28, 1880. He is a son of the late Samuel G. Walker, formerly one of the most widely known farmers in this section.

J. W. Walker is himself a farmer and is actively identified with the Daig Grange of Centerville. He is an alumnus of Washington and Jefferson college, the class of 1904 and was one of the most popular men who ever graduated from the institution. Mr. Walker also graduated from the Eastman Business college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

He has been active in Republican politics and is a member of the permanent board of viewers of Washington county.

Dolin outplayed and outscored Keenan with habitual ease.

Mayham was in the game for Johnstown and managed to score two field goals.

Jimsey Brown's usual six field goals were forthcoming and they were pretty ones.

Kummer wouldn't be such an unclean player if his teammates would leave him alone.

Every player on both the Charleroi and Johnstown teams scored. Allie Brown's two and Herron's one were pippins.

Captain Jack would have made the score look a whole lot different if Roach had kindly permitted him to do more foul shooting.

The boys say that Johnstown puts up about the cleanest article of basketball in the league. To be sure it isn't either Connellsville or Uniontown that plays the fairest.

Charleroi fails to win away from home with astonishing regularity. But so does every other team in the league. Something is wrong somewhere.

Referee Meisel is programmed to do the bossing stunt when Uniontown comes here Friday. Weitzel was to have come, but a change was made in the schedule.

The new nets were not friendly either to Johnstown last Friday nor to Johnny Freund's Southsiders last Monday. And it was Freund who complained about the old nets.

In the report of the Connellsville game it is stated that "several" of the Connellsville players were threatened with expulsion for tripping. Several must include Dark, Cavanaugh, Beggs and the rest.

SECURE RIGHT-OF-WAY THROUGH BENTLEYVILLE

Burgess William Johnson Signs Street Railway Ordinance

Extension Through to Bentleyville From Charleroi Expected to Follow

Burgess William Johnson of Bentleyville borough, late Tuesday afternoon approved by his signature an ordinance passed by the Bentleyville council the night before granting the Westside Street railway company the right of way to construct lines and maintain a service through the borough. Work will be started as soon as possible, and it is presumed that a continuation of the line from Charleroi to Bentleyville will be in the near future.

In November a franchise ordinance was passed by the Bentleyville council granting the company rights of way. This ordinance was vetoed after some deliberation by Burgess Johnson on the ground that it did not give the borough enough rights.

Two of the most important changes in the new ordinance are regarding the crossings. In it the word "near" was substituted by "within 150 feet," at the Newkirk church, and at another crossing "near" was substituted by 100 feet. Also there was some change in the matter of paving. The company agrees to pave between the tracks and some on the outside of the tracks. Where double tracks are laid there is to be 20 feet of paving done. In all probability the line will be extended from Bentleyville to Ellsworth and if plans are carried out this line will be continued even farther.

Two right-of-ways through to Bentleyville are being considered by the Westside Electric company, according to information received at noon, and it is only a question to be decided by the company officers which one will be selected.

Believed to Be Murder

Man at Monessen Supposed to Have Been Injured at Christening

Michael Menichuk aged 21, a coal miner, died at his home at Monessen Tuesday as the result of injuries said to have been received last Sunday night at a christening at the home of John Rovnak. Two men—George Rovnak and Mike Simezy—have been committed to jail on a charge of murder following a hearing before Burgess Reamer. Thirteen other foreigners have posted $25 for their appearance as witnesses.

According to the testimony the christening in the Rovnak home broke up in a general fight, during which beer bottles and glasses were used freely. Menichuk was carried from the place to his own home unconscious, and never rallied.

The police knew nothing of the fight or the wounding of Menichuk until John Rovnak notified them that Menichuk had died of his injuries.

FIREMEN OFFICERS ELECTED

DEPARTMENT HEAD VISITS THEATRES

Chief Factory Inspector J. C. Delaney Makes Special Trip to Charleroi—Makes an Inspection of Picture Houses

Chief Factory Inspector J. C. Delaney of Harrisburg made a hurried trip to Charleroi Tuesday apparently to make a special inspection of the theatres here. He was here a couple of hours but during that time visited the different places of amusement. While he did not make public anything concerning the result of his investigation, it is thought that certain changes will have to be made in each of the theatres to conform with the law.

In his conversation here, Mr. Delaney stated that the department was becoming more strict and no doubt in the next year or so more stringent laws would be passed regulating places of amusement. One matter that brought to the attention of the department the laxity of the enforcement of the laws in certain places was the Canonsburg theatre disaster of last year in which several lost their lives.

Mr. Delaney looked over the Coyte theatre which is being remodeled into a moving picturehouse of the most up-to-date kind and expressed himself as being highly pleased with the precautions for safety that are being taken.

Although the conspiracy and treason case of former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan against former Congressman E. F. Acheson, Senator J. Carter Judson and T. B. H. Brownlee was before the grand jury at Washington Tuesday, the case was not completed, as another witness was to be heard and the hearing was continued until today.

Another case that attracted much attention was that of Sid C. Wilson, proprietor of a Monongahela picture theatre. He exhibited what is known as the Beulah Binford films, and was returned on the charge of exhibiting indecent and immoral pictures under the new statute covering that offense passed by the last Legislature. The grand jury found a true bill against Wilson. Other true bills found were as follows:

Constantine Will, larceny by bailer; Andy Cornick, aggravated assault and battery; Constantine Prasad, aggravated assault and battery; Louis Garinonia, selling liquor illegally; Alexander Gardine, enticing minor child; Charles Brown, uttering and publishing forged statements and larceny; Chester Clark felonious breaking and entry; Charles W. Adams, crime against morality; Sam Dinelein, larceny.

Bills ignored were: Geldo Berti, selling liquor without license, John Perry, crime against morality; Joe Tokics, assault and battery.

TWENTY-ONE YEAR LEASE ON STORE

Big Firm Secures First Floor of the New Night Building

After looking over various towns in the Monongahela valley for a store location, one of the largest firms in the country handling a certain class of merchandise has centered upon Charleroi, and has secured a lease of 21 years on the storeroom in the new Night building on Fifth street. What the company handles and the firm name are being kept a secret. It is probable that the new store room will be finished by April and the company will immediately occupy it.

It is stated that an agent of the firm traveling incognito visited Charleroi, Monessen, Donora, Monongahela and one or two other towns to find the best location for a new store to be established in this valley, and without hesitancy after his investigation reached the conclusion that it was Charleroi.

January As Cold Month

Manipulation of Temperature Figures Shows it Was Record Breaker

According to R. A. Roberts, who with his other duties, watches the temperature for Uncle Sam at the North Charleroi government yards, the month of January was one of the coldest in the history of recent years. The average for the month was 14.8 degrees.

The coldest day during the month was January 13, when the mercury jumped down to 16 degrees below. January 14 was the next coldest day with the thermometer registering 15 degrees below zero. January 15 there was a temperature of 20 degrees above, January 16 two below, and then on January 18 the mercury traveled to 42 degrees above. From January 15 to January 19 inclusive there was an average temperature of 1.2 degrees below zero.

Thus far this month has been decidedly chilly. February 3 the temperature was 11 degrees above, February 4, four above, February 5, three below and February 6, six above. Today was warmer.

Play at Turner Hall Clears $220 for Charity Work

BOARD HEARS REPORTS

At a meeting of the Associated Board of Charities Tuesday evening, reports of the benefit show which was given last week at the Turner Hall were received, and resolutions adopted thanking all those who participated in the play and made it the success that it was. Not all the tickets are in yet, nor all the money collected, but in the neighborhood of $220 will be cleared from the show for carrying on the work among the poor.

Members of the cast C. W. Albright, Jr., director, Miss Kathryn Collins, Miss Amelia Patricks, Miss Marjorie Williams, Charles Feste, Chauncey Jones, Edward Lhoest, Edward Wolf and Fred Bell, were thanked for their kindly donated work; the Turn Verein for the donation of the hall for two nights, R. S. Coyle for the use of scenery, and others who in various ways helped to make it a success. A vote of thanks was expressed in a resolution to the Mail for use of its space in advertising the show.

Since the play was given people are beginning to better appreciate the work being done by the Associated Board of Charities. Clothing which

PROCEED WITH HEARING

Applicants Against Whom There Are Remonstrances Before Judge McIlvaine

Rather than risk a refusal the Star brewery of Washington withdrew its application for retail license at the license court at Washington Tuesday. This and the Acme brewery of Bentleyville and the Globe brewery of Monongahela, have been without a retail license for the past two years. Both the Acme and the Globe breweries, however, made their application for a retail license, although remonstrances and charges were filed against both.

The retail license against which remonstrances and charges had been filed that were heard Tuesday were those of Edward Miller who seeks a hotel license at Marianna; Lewis and Phoebe Cook, West Brownsville; Addison Abbot and others of the Abbot Hotel, Carroll township; Joseph Aul, Hotel Aubery, West Brownsville; William S. Bower, of Fredericktown; Mathias J. Engle, Hotel Good, West Brownsville; Harry Dunn, Midway; Thomas Noble, Hotel Noble, Carroll township; Thomas Nolder, Finleyville; John and Patrick Riley, Courtney; Charles Ruben, West Bethlehem township.

The applications for wholesale license were also taken up Tuesday. There are three of these, Harry Hayden, Monongahela; William Delaney, Donora, and Leonard Schmalbach of Charleroi. Charges and remonstrances are filed against each of these. It is expected that the hearings will be completed today. There were many witnesses both for and against the applicants, and a strong fight is being made in favor of a license for the Cochran distillery at Washington which has been thus far never operated, the license being refused each time.

GRAND REGENT WILL BE HERE

On the occasion of a visit to be made next Monday by the Grand Regent of Pennsylvania, Willard F. Thompson and other grand officers, Royal Arcanum members of Charleroi, Donora, Monessen, Redstone, California and Monongahela will hold a union meeting. This will be the first union meeting of the order ever held here and the members are working hard to make it an enjoyable affair.

Public economists and statesmen
generally are beginning to recognize
the immense amount of harm that
social agitation, class hatred and
coercive combinations are doing to
the business and industrial interests
of the country. All of these inter-
pose a check or hindrance to progress, which in turn imposes idleness
on labor, depreciation in values, and
loss of confidence in industrial developments and business investments.

Because of this agitation and class
hatred small investors are not putting their money in business ventures.
Instead they are putting it in the
banks where a reasonable rate of interest is assured without the risk of
the checks and hindrances that now
harrass all business interests. The banks in turn loan the money to the
big interests that are capitalized
strongly enough to combat whatever
forces that may be arrayed against
them and in turn control output and
prices. Thus it will be seen that the small savings bank depositor becomes
an unconscious co-operator with the
big trusts in providing funds with which to control business and industry.

The most effective check, however
is the agitation which destroys the
business confidence in a community,
and discourages the investment of
capital in industrial ventures. There are few communities that are immune from some of these checks and hindrances, the removal of which will be most effective in bettering conditions
everywhere. Lack of confidence is almost as bad as a famine.

PROTECTS LIFE.

The Railway World is authority for
the statement that a signal honor has
been paid the Pennsylvania Railroad
by the American Museum of Safety
in presenting to it a medal signifying
that the company has done more for
the protection of its employees than
any other company during the past year. In the fall of 1910 experts

from one of the large accident insurance companies were employed,
who, in company with the representatives of the motive power department inspected all the larger shops.
Following this safety committees
were organized on all divisions of the road. As a result the number of serious injuries per 1,000 shop employes
was reduced from 8.7 in January, 1911
to 3.2 in October.

This effort of the Pennsylvania in common with many other large railroad corporations, to reduce the number of accidents among the employes
is prompted not only by humanitarian motives but by considerations of business expediency. It does not make for efficient operation when
valued employes are continually being killed or injured and when their
places must be taken by less experienced men. A company is maintaining the integrity of its working organization when it safeguards by

PICKED UP IN PASSING.

Speaking of the forthcoming criminal court, which follows the action of the grand jury in session at Washington this week, a Charleroi citizen
relates a rather peculiar experience
he had while doing duty as jurymen ten or twelve years ago at the county seat.

"It so happened that there were
six of us from Charleroi who were
either serving on the jury or were
called there as witnesses," said the Charleroi man "and as hotel accommodations were somewhat limited on account of the court week crowd, our
bunch was quartered in one room together, which suited us all right, as we were a congenial crowd.

"The first evening at the hotel the whole six of us congregated in a small lounging room near the office for the purpose of playing cards. We had just gotten fairly started, when
we heard a tap at the door, and to
our response to come in, the colored porter entered.

"Is yo all de gem'en from Charleroi in No. 19," he asked with a knowing wink. When informed in the affirmative he added:

"Somebody, I doan know who,
done left two cases of beer in yo'
room. I'se jes' goin' by and done
seed it, so I took on myself to put
half a dozen bottles in de wash bowl with some cracked ice round 'em. How dat beer done got in dat room is
sure a mystery. I doan know who
put it dar."

"Immediately we all dipped down
in our pockets and gave the porter a
donation that not only reimbursed him
for his thoughtfulness, but covered
the price of the two cases of beer. The
porter had sized up our crowd and
taken a chance as to its thirstiness.
After that a couple of cases of beer
were found in the room every night
together with a bowl of cracked ice."

An old-time school master relates
that when physiology and hygiene
was made a compulsory study by a State law in the public schools of Pennsylvania a number of years ago,
a patron who was somewhat illiter-
ate filed a complaint against the
"new-fangled notions," as he called them.

"What's this stuff you're teaching
my daughter in school about how
we're made and put together?" he
asked of the teacher.

The latter endeavored to explain
but the man could not be convinced.
"It's all nonsense and time wasted," he declared. "The child always
trunk."

MORE OR LESS TRUE.

A woman can always forget her age, provided she doesn't look it.

them before and after making up.

Lots of people are sure they are right who never seem to go ahead.

Mrs. Frederick Nathan was asked

Gaynor's Bible Neglected.
On his four Mayor Gaynor of New York stopped at Great Barrington to look at the library of the town, to
which, 14 years ago, while a summer
resident there, he presented a copy of the Bible.

At that time he wanted a copy for
reference in preparing a speech he
was to make and was shocked to find
that there was no copy of the Bible
in the generous collection of bound
volumes of which the town had always been proud. He gave a copy
to the town library, and on the fly leaf
of the book he wrote:

"I have found a great many libraries
which lacked a great many books, but
never before have I found one like this, which lacked the Great Book."

The town has guarded the Gaynor
Bible zealously since 1897. It is in the pink of condition, never apparently having been opened; in fact, some of the leaves are still uncut.—Water-

To Purify Water.

To purify water sprinkle a table-
spoonful of pulverized alum into a hogshead of water (the water to be stirred at the same time). It will af-

purify the water that it will be found
to possess nearly all the freshness
and clearness of spring water. A pal-
ful containing four gallons may be
purified by a teaspoonful of alum.—

Noble Ideal.

In the effort to appreciate various forms of greatness, let us not under-
estimate the value of a simply good life. Just to be good; to keep life
pure from degrading elements, to make
it constantly helpful in little ways to those who are touched by it to keep
one's spirit always sweet, and avoid
all manner of petty anger and irritability—that is an ideal as noble as it is difficult.

Babies Chew Tobacco.

Eskimo babies, it is alleged, are
seldom weaned before the fourth or
fifth year, but are taught to chew tobacco and to swallow the juice even
as early as the ninth month. The cus-

haling tobacco smoke and swallowing
tobacco juice seem to be of no recent
growth. No evil results of either practice seem to be apparent.—Medical

Consulting Mme. Fantella

"Again and again I've addressed
you," remarked Grace, "while you've
been staring and gazing at that calendar. Aren't there enough days in the month to suit you?"

"Certainly, but this is the 15th of October—one of vital importance to
me."

"What's so special about it?"

"About three weeks ago," answered
Juliette, her face beaming with smiles
and her eyes glistening with expectancy, "I consulted a clairvoyant, Madame Fantella."

"Madame Fantella used to sew for
us," interrupted Grace.

"Not this one. She is simply marvelous, predicts miraculous events and
gives you the most wonderful dates."
"For instance?" asked Grace, dubi-tiously.

"At the age of sixty-nine I will meet with a serious illness, but will recover."

"I hope you will have recovered
your senses by that time and not be lieve in every fake fortune teller or
palmist."

"I'm not superstitious, but on this
very date she prophesied that a tall
dark young man would invite me to
the theater and come what may, under no condition should I refuse, as
he would propose."

"Who is the tall dark, mysterious
gent?"

"Why, Charles Charleton, of course,
whose invitation I accepted immediately for tonight."

"Astounding! Surprising! Charles
always seemed a confirmed bachelor
to me," exclaimed Grace. "He is so
attentive to all the girls."

"Little did I think I would be the fortunate one. How the girls will envy me, the wife of such a handsome, cultured, clever lawyer," said Juliette in
a delighted, blissful tone.

When Charles called for Juliette
that evening, he found her waiting for
him looking as pretty as a lily all in white. She greeted him more cordially than ever and seemed to listen intently to even the most trivial remark. All the time she was ponder-
ing. "How, when and where will he
say those glorious words that can so
easily be answered in one little word
of three letters?"

"You seem radiant with happiness,"
Charles commented.

"I'm always happy when I'm with
you," she answered as they left the
theater, where she had not heard one
word of the play.

"Then I'm all the sorrier," commented Charles, "to tell you that next
week I intend moving to New York."

"Doesn't he think I'd move away,"
wondered Juliette. "Why, I'd go to the depths of Africa with the man I cared for." Aloud, she managed to ask, "Why?"

"A well-known legal firm want a single young man to look after one
department of their business and I
have accepted their offer, which means
a successful future."

"Accept my congratulations," said Juliette. "But you will not always be single?"

"For a long time to come," explained Charles. "That's the reason
I'm nice to all the girls, so none can
take my attentions seriously."

"Not even if you admired the girl
greatly," asked Juliette, fast losing
confidence in Madame Fantella.

"No, because my mother on her
death-bed exacted a promise from me
that I would not marry until my sisters were married. As the kids are only seven and nine years now, my
benedict days are in the dim future."

Charles was so interested in telling
about his run of affairs and prospects
that he failed to notice how listless
and weary Juliette was.

"I shall never forget what a pleasant evening I spent," he said as he
left her.

"I'll never forget it either," thought Juliette, tearing the calendar to
shreds. "That I have wasted three
weeks of my life thinking, hoping and dreaming of that cancelled fool!
Madame Fantella is certainly wonderful in predicting occurrences that

Repent!

I heard the voice of the Lord in the silence, say:

"Repent!"

Contrite, I felt on my heart such a frightful weight.

As seemed of doom terrors blent.

"O Lord," I gasped, in a whisper, with
fear hoarse.

"Thy grace Reveal! Thy favor bestow! Oh, be near,
source

Of strength and my weakness offset!"

Then sudden peace on my spirit descended:

I felt Upraised, upborne, by the Infinite fend-
ed.

And, weeping with joy, I knelt.

And there, gloom-compressed, I panted
my heart's woe:

I prayed
With fervor, zeal, such as life's deepest
smarts owe.

And knew, in the praying, God's aid.

Thus morning found me: and I from my bed, rose, free

Content:
My heart was filled with the joy one at
ease knows:

I said: "I repent—I repent!"

Various Appeals.

"How did you like the big frosted cake I made?" inquired the young woman who cooks. "It depends," replied the cautious man, "on whether we are discussing it as food or as nary."

How Perfume is Weighed.
It was the Italian physician Salvemini who devised a microbalance of such extreme delicacy that it clearly demonstrated the loss of weight of musk by volatilization. Thus the invisible perfume floating off in the air is indirectly weighed.

The essential part of the apparatus is a very thin thread of glass, fixed at one end and extended horizontally. The microscopic objects to be weighed are placed upon the glass thread near its free end and the amount of flexure produced is observed with a microscope magnifying 100 diameters.

A mote weighing one thousandth of a milligram is said perceptibly to bend the thread.—Buffalo Courier.

Heart is Best Guide.

The man who offers sympathy to a neighbor and who comforts him in time of trouble can afford to run the risk of being accused of not minding his own business. An act of genuine kindness is readily distinguished from intermeddling. The heart is sometimes a better guide for action than the head.

Shocking Sounds.

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50 cents at W. F. GRIM TRAGEDIES OF OCEAN

Many Vessels Abandoned at Sea That Are Constant Menace to Navigation.

There is a grimness about the brief news dispatch which states that the derelict destroyer Seneca, of the United States revenue cutter service, weighed anchor and steamed out of New York harbor to search for derelicts of the seven-day storm which ended recently. Vessels that have been abandoned at sea, unless deliberately destroyed, continue to be a menace to shipping for a long period following their abandonment. For many years it was customary for sea captains, on coming into port, to report such derelicts as they had observed during a voyage, and the government published charts in which the position of the reported derelicts was shown, in order that sailing masters might be on their guard against collision with them. There was at one time some talk of international co-operation in the task of clearing the sea of these floating ships, but nothing came of it, and the United States government finally took the matter up on its own account, being for a long time the only government which did so, and presumably it occupies that position to this day. The vessels designated as derelict destroyers are specially fitted out with dynamite and other means of destroying and sinking the floating menaces to navigation, and the significance of the departure of the Seneca lies in the fact that the storm of last week is supposed to have caused many wrecks off Hatteras and along the coast of the Carolinas.

Cheap Mode of Living.

With no rent to pay, no street car fares or other of the usual unavoidable city expenses to meet, the barge and canal boat men of the Netherlands live possibly the most frugal lives of any of the urban working classes in Europe. They, with their families, exist in the hulls of their craft. The rooms are small, with little ventilation, and necessarily low to enable the boats to pass under the bridges. The decks form the children's playground. Chickens are sometimes kept on the boat and consume the garbage.

Make-up of the Dollar Bill.

The American dollar bill is made up of parts gathered from all over the earth. Much of the paper fiber is linen rag from the Orient. The silk comes from Italy and China. The blue ink is made from German or Canadian cobalt. The black ink is made from Niagara Falls acetylene gas smoke, and most of the green ink has green color mixed in white zinc sulphide made in Germany. When the treasury seal is printed in red the color comes from Central America.

PREPARE FOR AUTUMN

Tailored Styles Continue to Hold Their Own in Popular Favor—Short Coat Is Also to Be Much in Vogue.

This is an excellent time for looking up the things needed for the next three months, for at this time autumn effects make their appearance and they are generally much cheaper than later on. As usual, tailored styles are much considered, the trim street suit and long coat being in a way always the same and easier to decide upon than the more fanciful garments. At any rate, only tailored things are seen to any extent, and these are quite plain, though the fashion people promise any number of fine surprises in a week or two. In fact, we are told that the street gown will be quite fancy with trimming, that there will be odd cuts and vastly rich colors. Meanwhile, except for an increasing width in the skirt, made by inverted plaits stitched closely at the top and flaring at the bottom, street suits are not greatly different in style from those of the summer. The short coat introduced with late is much in vogue, but this has as many cuts as the peacock has eyes in his gorgeous tail—it is in sacque shape, Empire form, in Norfolk design or with a high belt and coquettish shirred tail. Materials for these fresh and enticing suits, of course, consider the autumn in quality and color. The nattiest little checked wools and striped men's cloths show mellow browns to a great extent, a touch of black satin and deep orange linen being used sometimes for collar and cuffs. Any black and white goods suitable for a tailored suit is still very chic, and with this combination the coat trimmings may show a blend of white and purple linen. The oddity of putting satin with muslin and linen with wool in this way is decidedly smart and most suited to the season. The washable summer materials, the softness of the darkish colors used, and lighten the effect of the textures which might otherwise seem too clumsy for the middle of September.

The illustration gives the loose sacque style girls from seven to twelve will wear, and it is in a smooth blue serge with blue and red silk for the trimming. The single button is of red silk covered with blue crochet.

and this solitary detail gives the little garment a very elegant stamp. Pearl or bone buttons, by the way, are not used on any dressy coat, unless the garment is in polo style and in a delicate evening color. Buttons are elaborate and made to a great extent of crochet over molds, or the covering will be of some rich tapestry in soft colors—the button set in a metal rim—or the fastener will show a crust of rich embroidery.

On fact, so far as buttons are concerned, one can be commonplace only with the practical coat, and even here if the garment is of a very rough sort some novelty in shape is desirable with the cheapest bone button. The wooden mold, however, covered plainly with the same material, trims many a dashing coat and where the garment is reversible, whichever way the coat is put on, the buttons will be in the color of the lining. With this exception all other buttons on the first coats are striking and original.

To Clean Moire Bags.

White moire handbags clean easily with naphtha. The whole bag—silk cord, gold mountings and all—may be dipped into the naphtha. A gentle scrubbing with an old tooth brush will aid in the cleansing process. The result is better than that which sometimes follows the laundering of a linen hand bag, so that the silk cord, while costly, are not extravagant in the end.

SHE IS DELIGHTED

For Nine Year's Stomach Trouble Is Gone.

Everybody knows that the best fed people stand the best chance in the world, if they are careful to keep their stomachs in good trim.

We say positively that there is nothing that will do you so much good when you have stomach trouble and are rundown, worn out and weak, as Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil.

Letha Chewning, Lucknow, S. C., says "Indigestion, loss of appetite and general weakness have been troubling me for nine years. When I began taking Vinol a few weeks ago I noticed an improvement in a very short time and now I feel much stronger than I have in years. Vinol has built me up, improved my appetite and digestion and I am delighted with its splendid results."

You can have your money back if Vinol does not do all we promise you and certainly this is a generous offer. Let Vinol make you strong. Piper Bros., Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

Among The Passers

Dolin outplayed and outscored Keenan with habitual ease.

Mayham was in the game for Johnston and managed to score two field goals.

Jimsey Brown's usual six field goals were forthcoming and they were pretty ones.

Kummer wouldn't be such an unclean player if his teammates would leave him alone.

Every player on both the Charleroi and Johnston teams scored. Allie Brown's two and Herron's one were pippins.

Captain Jack would have made the score look a whole lot different if Roach had kindly permitted him to do more foul shooting.

The boys say that Johnston puts up about the cleanest article of basketball in the league. To be sure it isn't either Connellsville or Uniontown that plays the fairest.

Charleroi fails to win away from home with astonishing regularity. But so does every other team in the league. Something is wrong somewhere.

Referee Meisel is programmed to do the bossing stunt when Uniontown comes here Friday. Weitzel was to have come but a change was made in the schedule.

The new nets were not friendly either to Johnston last Friday nor to Johnny Freund's Southsiders last Monday. And it was Freund who complained about the old nets.

In the report of the Connellsville game it is stated that "several" of the Connellsville players were threatened with expulsion for tripping. Several must include Dark, Cavanaugh, Beggs and the rest.

JOHNSTOWN VICTOR IN HOT GAME

Fogarty's Men Defeat Charleroi on Jawn' Floor

JIMSEY BROWN GETS SIX

In a fast clean game at Johnstown Tuesday night the Johnstown five took over the Charleroi basketball five by the score of 43 to 35. Fast all the way through the Flood City tossers had to win in the last few minutes of play. Both teams put up the finest kind of basketball.

The first half started off with a rush. In a short time the Jawns were rejoicing with 15 points, Charleroi had few to talk about. At 15 Fogarty and his tribe stopped for a while and the Adamsites trotted up and passed them. The end of the first half came with Charleroi in the lead by the score of 24 to 23.

If anything the second half was an improvement on the first in the way of speed. Johnstown passed Charleroi and gained more rapidly than it had in the first inning Wohlfarth and Kinkaide throwing baskets with the accuracy of real sharpshooters. The lineup:

Johnstown—43	Charleroi—35
Fogarty	F..... Adams
Mayham	F..... J. Brown
Keenan	C..... Dolin
Kinkaide	G..... A. Brown
Wohlfarth	G..... Herron

Field goals—Mayham 2, Fogarty, Keenan 3, Kinkaide 5, Wohlfarth 6, Adams 2, J. Brown 6, Dolin 4, A. Brown 2, Herron. Foul goals—Fogarty 9 out of 13, Adams 5 out of 9. Referee—Roach.

ANNOUNCES FOR THE ASSEMBLY

James W. Walker of West Pike Run township announces that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Assembly at the primaries on April 13. Mr. Walker is one of the best known young Republicans in Washington county and has been mentioned on previous occasions in connection with the Assembly nomination.

JAMES W. WALKER.

He is a resident of West Pike Run township near Coal Centre. He lives on the old Walker home farm there where he was born March 23, 1880. He is a son of the late Samuel G. Walker, formerly one of the most widely known farmers in this section.

J. W. Walker is himself a farmer and is actively identified with the Daig Grange of Centerville. He is an alumnus of Washington and Jefferson college, the class of 1904 and was one of the most popular men who ever graduated from the institution. Mr. Walker also graduated from the Eastman Business college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

He has been active in Republican politics and is a member of the permanent board of viewers of Washington county.
